PEACE

The greeting of peace at Mass adds substance to a message of today's readings: peace is relational. When we greet in peace the person near us at Mass, we share the touch of a handshake or embrace, sincere eye contact, and friendly words. The scriptures speak of a similar peace. The first reading from Isaiah describes the peace of the holy city, Jerusalem, a place of prosperity and comfort where the "LORD's power shall be known to his servants" (Isaiah 66:14c).

The Christian understanding of peace changes slightly. Paul writes of the "peace and mercy" on all who are created anew. Jesus describes a feeling of peace that will rest on those who accept his disciples and their message.

Peace is both an absence of strife and a personal blessing. May we always and sincerely bring peace to our own lives as we share it with others.

Discern Your Gift

Lector

How did we do last week with our role as a member of the assembly?

There are many ministries which are exercised during the liturgy. Each person who embraces a particular ministry does this on behalf of the entire assembly.

For example, the lector represents us all because there is no way that each one of us could be part of that ministry at the same Mass. We would be there all day!

Instead, those who think they have the gift of proclaiming God's Word in a clear, strong voice in a poised manner offer these gifts/talents to the local church of Saints Peter and Paul so that the liturgy will be presented in a meaningful way.

So it is with the other ministries which we will address as we discern our gifts.

We must always remember that those who exercise these ministries are still part of the assembly and that this is a ministry, not a job.

Think. Discern. Do you think you might have the gifts for the ministry of lector?

Liturgy Corner: Did You Know? Cross

A cross, the basic symbol of Christianity, is to be clearly visible at all Eucharistic liturgies. This cross may be a permanent one, or it may be a processional cross, carried in and placed near the altar at the beginning of each celebration.

Current norms for celebrating Mass call very specifically for this cross to carry an image of Christ crucified and recommend that, if it is a processional cross, that it be allowed to remain close to the altar even when no worship services are taking place.

Marriage Moments

How much independence is good in a marriage? Certainly husband and wife should be able to stand on their own two feet and not rely on their spouse for identity and self-worth; BUT interdependence is better. What do you depend on your spouse to do around the home?

Bulletin Briefs

"The threats to religious freedom are more subtle (in the West); many people don't even perceive them...Whereas in other parts of the world...it's bloody, violent, overt, but in both cases it's a denial of the rights of conscience, it's a denial of the fundamental freedom to relate to one's own God."
